My Sister

Sharon, Sharon, Sharon in only me wanting to say now that you are in the hands of Yahwen I can say you are now free, from those pains that had you down, my heart and soul can be at peace seeing you now at peace You brought many laughter and joy to my life, but I knew some day that will end. I was not there when your life began, but I thank Yahwen for allowing me to see your end. Those few days I spend with you gave me closer to know that I can now move on, I'm not going to say good-bye just saying am glad you made it in with mom.

Phenomenal Woman By Mayo Angelou

Pretty women wonder where my secret lies I'm not cute or built to suit a fashion model's size, but when I start to tell then, they think I'm telling lies. I say, it's in the reach of my arms, the span of my hips, the stride of my step, the curl of my lips. I'm a woman phenomenally. Phenomenal woman that's me.

I walk into a room just as cool as you please, and to a man, the fellows stand or fall down on their knees. Then they swarm around me, a hive of honey bees. I say, it's the fire in my eyes, and the flash of my teeth, the swing in my waist, and the joy in my feet. I'm a woman phenomenally. Phenomenal woman. That's me.

Men themselves have wondered what they see in me. They try so much but they can't touch my inner mystery. When I try to show them they say they still can't see. I say, it's in the arch of my back, the grace of my style I'm a woman phenomenally. Phenomenal woman. That me.

Now you understand just why my head's not bowed. I don't shout or jump about or have to talk real loud. When you see me passing it ought to make you proud. I say, it's in the click of my heels, the bend of my hair, the palm of my hand the need of my care, cause I'm a woman phenomenally. Phenomenal woman that's me.

Sharon Yvonne Douglas Lockwood

fondly known to others as "Mz. Shay," was born in Dallas, TX on October 11, 1966, to the parentage of Theodore Douglas and the late Linda Douglas.

She attended Figueroa Street Elementary, Henry Clay Middle School, and graduated from George Washington Preparatory High School in the Class of 1984. She continued her education at El Camino Community College where she studied cosmetology. After graduating, Sharon opened her own salon called "The Mane Stop Hair Salon" in 1992 in Los Angeles, CA. Some of Sharon's favorite things to do were to cook, do hair, and listen to Erykah Badu.

She is preceded in death by her mother Linda Douglas and brother Willie "Tanky" Dennis.

She leaves to cherish her beautiful memories: husband Earl Lockwood of Los Angeles, CA; father Theodore Douglas of Kilgore, TX; sister Pamela Washington (Alton); niece Alexis Turner Washington; nephew Nicolas Washington; aunt Helen Adger, special family friend Ezell Lynch and a host of other relatives and friends.
